Proposal:- EXTENSION AND ALTERATIONS TO DWELLING

Introduction:-

This is a full application for the erection of a pitched roof porch to the front of 28 Main Road, Sheepy Magna.

The application property is a two-storey, detached, 1970's dwelling with an existing flat roof porch. The property is situated on a main thoroughfare through the village, set back from the highway and forms the northern most property in a staggered row of 7 similar properties. 30 Main Road stands to the south west, 26 Main Road stands to the north east but stepped back from the property and 24 Main Road stands beyond that. 19 Main Road stands opposite the property.

A similar application composing of a porch of identical design has also been proposed at 32 Main Road, Sheepy Magna.

History

None

Consultations:-

An objection has been received from a neighbouring property on the grounds of impact on light, diminished value and unsympathetic design. These concerns are intensified by the similar application at 32 Main Road, Sheepy Magna.

The Borough Council Environmental Health Officer (land drainage) has no objection to this application.

No response has been received from Sheepy Parish Council.

Appraisal:-

The main considerations for the determination of this application are the design of the development and its impact on neighbours' amenity and the character of the area and street scene.

Neighbours amenity

The front elevation of adjacent property No.26 stands approximately 12 metres behind that of the applicants' property and No.24 is separated by approximately 16 metres. Therefore the development is considered to have no impact on these properties.

Adjacent property 30 Main Road stands to the south west of the property with the front elevation standing 1.2 metres forward the applicants existing flat roof porch. The scheme seeks to remodel and extend this porch to form a dual pitched roof reaching a height of 3.1 metres, a width of 3.5 metres with a projection from the front elevation of 3.05 metres. This will extend the porch 0.6 metres past the front elevation containing a bow window of No.30 and create additional massing on the roof. This 0.6 metre projection stands within the 3 metre projection on boundaries permitted by guidance for single storey extensions. This minimal projection combined with the adjacent properties south westerly position is considered to have a negligible impact on light reaching this adjacent living room window. The development includes a roof light of the elevation facing this property though this will stand above eye level and will not create an overlooking issue. Therefore the development is considered to not to have an adverse impact on 30 Main Road.

Design and impact on the character of the area and street scene

The proposed development will extend the existing porch and remodel the flat roof to a dual pitched roof. The row of seven 1970's properties in which this property stands all originally had flat roof porches and forms a characteristic feature of these dwellings. Despite this an alteration such as proposed would be considered minor in nature, would mirror the existing form of the dwelling and is likely to improve the longevity of the porch structure. In addition the development would add to the varied character of the village as a whole.

The extended projection of the porch will push the front building line of the property forward of No.30's principal elevation but would not exceed the building line formed by this property's' porch. Whilst the development may disrupt the staggered building line of this row of houses it is not considered unduly detrimental to the character of the area or street scene to a degree to warrant refusal on this basis. This is especially the case when other alterations to the front elevation of properties on this row are considered which have already diminished some of the original character.

Other issues

The objection relating to the devaluation of 30 Main Road is not a material consideration for a planning application.

Conclusion

Overall the proposed porch extension and roof alteration would be of an acceptable design and would not have an unduly detrimental impact on neighbours' amenity or the character of the area or street scene and would be acceptable.
