Dear Mr. Hicks,

15 JUL 2008

18 Foxs Covert Fenny Drayton

Further to our recent discussions regarding the planning application for the above property, my client has decided to withdraw the present application and provide a new submission incorporating amendments to the design of the main roof and the two projecting roof areas at the front.

Regarding the objection to the patio door and Juliet rail at the rear, Mr. McGeigh feels that this is an attractive feature and that there are no logical reasons for replacing the door and rail with a normal depth window. Moreover, the increased glazed area will help to provide light to the large rear bedroom thus creating a more pleasant ambience within the room.

The planning application fee of £150 may be retained and attached to the new submission which will be submitted very shortly.

I wish to extend my thanks to you personally for the help and advice given in dealing with this matter.

Yours Sincerely,

Michael Carroll
