Dear FMB Member

Theft from building sites continue to rise despite the efforts of many contractors to secure their sites with traditional methods such as fencing and chains.

The most disruptive crime is wanton vandalism of site accommodation especially arson as the effect is to destroy vitally important documents and instruments.

It is the Federations advice for our members to dispense with the use of traditional timber construction site accommodation and to use modern metal containers now freely available on the market to hire or purchase.

For further advice please contact this office on 0121 421 2241 or check the Federations Web site.

Site security is vital and will pay for itself over a very short time.

Yours sincerely
