Trees, Cottage Farm

The garden of Cottage Farm has been planted over 25 years with a large number of trees of many varieties. We have been advised to reduce a few of the trees and to remove one in-appropriate species.

The Maple is now too large for a garden tree and conflicts with both electricity supply and telephone overhead cables running along the verge of Allotment Lane. It is advised to reduce this tree by 30%.

Two Holme Oaks were planted over 20 years ago and they are now overlarge as garden trees. It is advised to reduce each by 30%.

The Spruce is a Xmas tree planted over 20 years ago and it is now crowding one of the Holme Oaks. It was planted too close to the more important tree. It has been advised to remove it.

With the large number of trees in the garden it is considered that the tree works listed above will have no impact on the visual amenity for both the village and the users of the garden. The works will be beneficial for the health of the remaining trees.
