Nick,
I agree with you on T5 Hawthorn - does not merit a TPO.

Most of the others however, and more, do merit a TPO.
There is high public visibility from the road and both lanes. Their value is now and in the future.

The specifications are too vague and work described is excessive in some cases. If work is undertaken based on the work described it would be detrimental to amenity value and tree health.Precise professional specifications are needed in accordance with BS3998:2010.

I recommend protecting the following by TPO:
T1 Whitebeam
T2 Walnut
T3 Purple leaf plum
T6 Hawthorn
T7 1no. Laburnum only. (There are three Laburnums and therefore this one needs plotting accurately.)

Also:
1no.Snowy mespil
1no.Cherry
1no.Silver birch.
No works are being proposed for these three but they are equally of value.

T4 Norway maple which they decided not to remove, does not merit a TPO.

I can plot the eight trees on a drawing next week.

Cheers,

Julian
