Comments Details

I note in the Indicative Noise Information document the applicant states that "We have carried out the noise assessment based on the 2013 MSC 020 standard as this was the applicable standard at the time of installation in 2024."

Comments: The original (2013) MSC 020 was never appropriate for more than one unit and in more complex situations BS4142 is more appropriate.

A BS4142 assessment should be carried out.

Kind regards
