Debbie Phillips

From: Julian Simpson
Sent: 10 November 2010 10:16
To: Debbie Phillips
Subject: RE: 24 Church Road - Removal of 1 Lombardy Poplar

Deb.
Dead branches could be pruned out.
The tree appears to be in good health apart from minor dead branches.
There is no visible evidence of structural damage to the boundary or retaining walls.
No evidence provided of major structural defects within the tree.
Rooting area may be limited between the walls and an application should be supported by an Arboricultural report.

In terms of amenity value and TEMPO assessment it would score:
Condition : Good. 5
Life expectancy: 20-40yrs. 2
Visibility: Large prominent tree. 5
Other factors: None 1
Expediency: Immediate threat. 5

Total: 18 Definitely merits a TPO.

Julian

From: Debbie Phillips
Sent: 10 November 2010 09:25
To: Julian Simpson
Subject: RE: 24 Church Road - Removal of 1 Lombardy Poplar

Sorry, that might have been useful - Its in Shackerstone.

Reason for felling - Excessive height, close proximity to their property and neighbours, recently shed pieces of dead wood up to 5" in length which fell into the neighbouring property. They will replace it with low level shrub or something you advise.

Deb

From: Julian Simpson
Sent: 09 November 2010 11:39
To: Barry Whirrity
Cc: Debbie Phillips
Subject: FW: 24 Church Road - Removal of 1 Lombardy Poplar

Barry,
In Deb's absence - which Church Road?

Deb.
Any reason given for felling?
Julian

From: Debbie Phillips
Sent: 05 November 2010 13:01
To: Julian Simpson
Subject: 24 Church Road - Removal of 1 Lombardy Poplar

Hi Julian,

I have an application at the above address to remove a Lombardy Poplar in the front garden. It is not protected but is really prominent within the street scene of the Conservation Area and both I and Barry Whirrity feel that it would be a shame to lose it.

Would you be able to have a look at it please and give me your expert opinion on whether or not it is worthy of protection.

Sorry its a bit short notice, but if you could get back to me asap just incase we need to TPO it would be greatly appreciated.

Thanks

Deb