

This photo shows the original pollard points. Which the tree is recommended to be reduced to.

This photo shows the original pollard points. Which the tree is recommended to be reduced to.

This photo shows the original pollard points. Which the tree is recommended to be reduced to. Circled is the noted.

The feature was drilled at various points. This shows drilling point at the stem base. This is where the least resistance was felt and brown discolored wood shavings were noted.

Brown discolored wood shavings noted on the drill bit.