Comments Details

Comments:	The spec sheet for the appliance shows (both listed models) a sound power level of 61dB. I note that both MCS 20 (a) assessments are based on a Sound Power Level of 58dB.
	The MCS 20(a) assessment for the "ground floor window of No.8 Northfield Road, rear elevation, looking north west" is non compliant with the standard.
	The MCS 20(a) assessment for the "First floor window of No.4 Northfield Road, rear elevation, looking south east" is stated to be compliant however The extra 3 dB would make the 2nd assessment location non-compliant.
	A different location, appliance or some form of mitigation should be considered.

Kind regards
