Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This is not a sufficient space to comment on this proposal we have hand delivered on receipt a document for the attention of Matt Jedruch and is to be considered as an objection. This includes files and photographs for consideration. At this point we would like to draw your attention to the important date of Neighbour consultation expiry date as Wednesday the 31st of May 2023 and the planning notice posted on UpperBond Street by the applicant on the 17th of May which states 21 days to submit comment or objection would mean the final submission date would be the 7th of June 2023. This is misleading and may result in some comments/objections being missed. Have statutory duties by the applicant been observed? If not should there be further consultation given.

Kind regards
