Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Details of the pre-application advice received

An indicative site location plan, floor plan and front elevation plan have been provided as part of the submission, which demonstrate the proposed location of the decking and its dimensions. Photographs of the existing decking have also been submitted. Any advice given in this response is on the basis of this information.

The proposed decking would be situated to the rear (north) of the application dwelling; would project outwards from the existing rear elevation by a maximum of 3.90 metres, would host a maximum width of 7.20 metres and would host a maximum height of 3.00 metres (this is assumed to be to the top of the boundary fencing and not the floor level of the decking). The proposal would involve the demolition of the existing decking at the site, which does not host planning permission, however can be evidenced to have been in situ since at least 2013, being immune from planning enforcement action.

Dimensions of the existing decking have not been provided, however from the minimal information submitted the proposed decking is to only host a modest increase in depth and is to remain 1.50 metres from ground level to be in line with the existing conservatory's floor level and a further 1.50 metres from decking level. The main alteration that can be observed is the re-positioning of the stairs from the east to the north of the decking, none of which will be predominantly viewable.

The materials would remain to match those of the existing decking. The proposal is not considered to be a complementary addition to the dwelling, however as the existing decking at the site is immune from planning enforcement action, is minimally viewable from a public viewpoint and is only to hosts a modest increase in depth the proposal is not considered to warrant refusal if a formal application was submitted to the Local Planning Authority. By virtue of this, this aspect of the proposal is considered to be in accordance with Policy DM10 of the SADMP and Policy 22 of the Earl Shilton and Barwell AAP.

Conclusion

By virtue of the appropriate scale, layout, design and proposed construction materials, it is considered that the proposed development would comply with Policy DM10 of the SADMP and Policy 22 of the Earl Shilton and Barwell AAP and is likely to be acceptable. Therefore the LPA would be likely to support this proposal if an application was submitted for consideration

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
