Re – Planning Permission for Offices at The Elms, Main Street, Nailstone

Dear James

Further to our meeting last week and the subsequent phone call with Pete Barnwell – I wish to clarify how our business works.

We are a sealant company that supplies manpower to carry out sealant works to new build sites predominantly new housing. We keep a stock of material for our sole use that is delivered in on a once or bi monthly basis.

We employ five applicators who have a van each which are kept at their own houses at night. They come in to the yard once a week which is split – two on a Tuesday / three on a Wednesday once they have finished their work for the day. Work details for the following week are then taken out to them on a Friday with any material they may require.

As far as office staff are concerned – my husband and I are obviously full time and we have two members of staff that work in the office but opposite each other during the week. Therefore only one extra car per day is all that comes at present. Once the office is up and running we would like the facility to employ another member of office staff to help part time sometime in the future.

I trust that this clarifies any confusion – please contact us if you need any further questions answered.

Yours truly

Paul & Gabrielle Riley
