

Side Elevation

This architectural drawing shows a section of a building facade. It features a window with a four-pane grid pattern on the left side. Below the window is a door with a small transom window. The drawing is a line sketch, showing the basic structure and proportions of the building elements.

① AMENDED