Comments:	Previously a request was made via an planning application to reduce this tree to hedge height. This would have a negative effect upon the street scene and therefore a TPO was placed upon the tree and the application declined.
	We feel that raising the crown to this extent would have a similar negative effect upon the street scene. The tree would look out of balance and would probably suffer damage as it would be top heavy. The tree has not finished its growing cycle and will be higher when mature. The application is to raise the canopy by 5 metres which is almost 3 metres higher than the outbuildings below is in our view excessive.
	We would support a more modest raising of the crown to say 3 metres to prevent fouling of the outbuildings.

Kind regards
