August 2025 Update

National Highways has continued to engage with the applicant in reviewing the supplementary information to support this application. In August 2025 in dialogue with the applicants consultant, we set our latest position regarding the outstanding matters, this included (but is not limited too) Modelling Methodology, Trip Distribution and Model Spreadsheets.

It is recommended that the application should not be approved for a period of three months from the date of this response. This will allow sufficient time for the applicant to provide further information and for National Highways to review and respond to the information provided.

Standing advice to the local planning authority

The Climate Change Committee's 2022 Report to Parliament notes that for the UK to achieve net zero carbon status by 2050, action is needed to support a modal shift away from car travel. The NPPF supports this position, with paragraphs 77 and 110 prescribing that significant development should offer a genuine choice of transport modes, while paragraphs 109 and 115 advise that appropriate opportunities to promote walking, cycling and public transport should be taken up as part of a vision-led approach.

Moreover, the carbon reduction hierarchy (avoid-switch-improve) as set out in clause 4.3 of PAS2080:2023 promotes approaches and measures to minimise resource consumption and thereby reduce carbon emissions.

These considerations should be weighed alongside any relevant Local Plan policies to ensure that planning decisions are in line with the necessary transition to net zero carbon.
